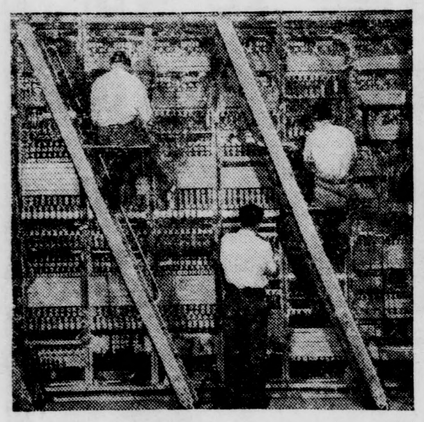
ONE OF TODAY'S BIGGEST BARGAINS

How your telephone gives you more real value today in spite of sharply-increased costs of furnishing service

1. For a quick call to the druggist, for business, for every purpose, your telephone is a more valuable servant today than ever. It can run more errands, do more jobs. In the past ten years, telephones on the Coast have doubled. We're continuing to add them rapidly. Result: You can get in touch with more people. More people can get in touch with you.



2. If you could see how much expensive equipment goes to work for you each time you make a call, you might wonder how it can be done . . . for just a few dollars a month. Lines, cables, poles, buildings, intricate equipment—all must be ready . . . along with the people who man them . . . to serve you when you pick up your telephone.

3. More "Voices with a Smile" are serving the West today . . . our payroll is the biggest ever. Postwar costs have shot up all along the line on the things we do to provide service. The facilities to serve new telephones today cost about twice as much as prewar. Yet telephone rates are up much less than almost anything we buy or you buy.

4. There is no way to determine the full value of a telephone, of course. A call may be routine—or it may save a life, make a new friend, close a business deal. Yet a few pennies still buy a telephone call. In these days of high prices, it's good to know that your telephone keeps giving you real value—it's one of today's biggest bargains.

Study The Eating Value You Get In Safeway Lamb Chops

(the chops are yours free unless you find them wonderful eating!)

THEY'RE FROM TOP GRADES OF LAMB
...selected by experts who know quality

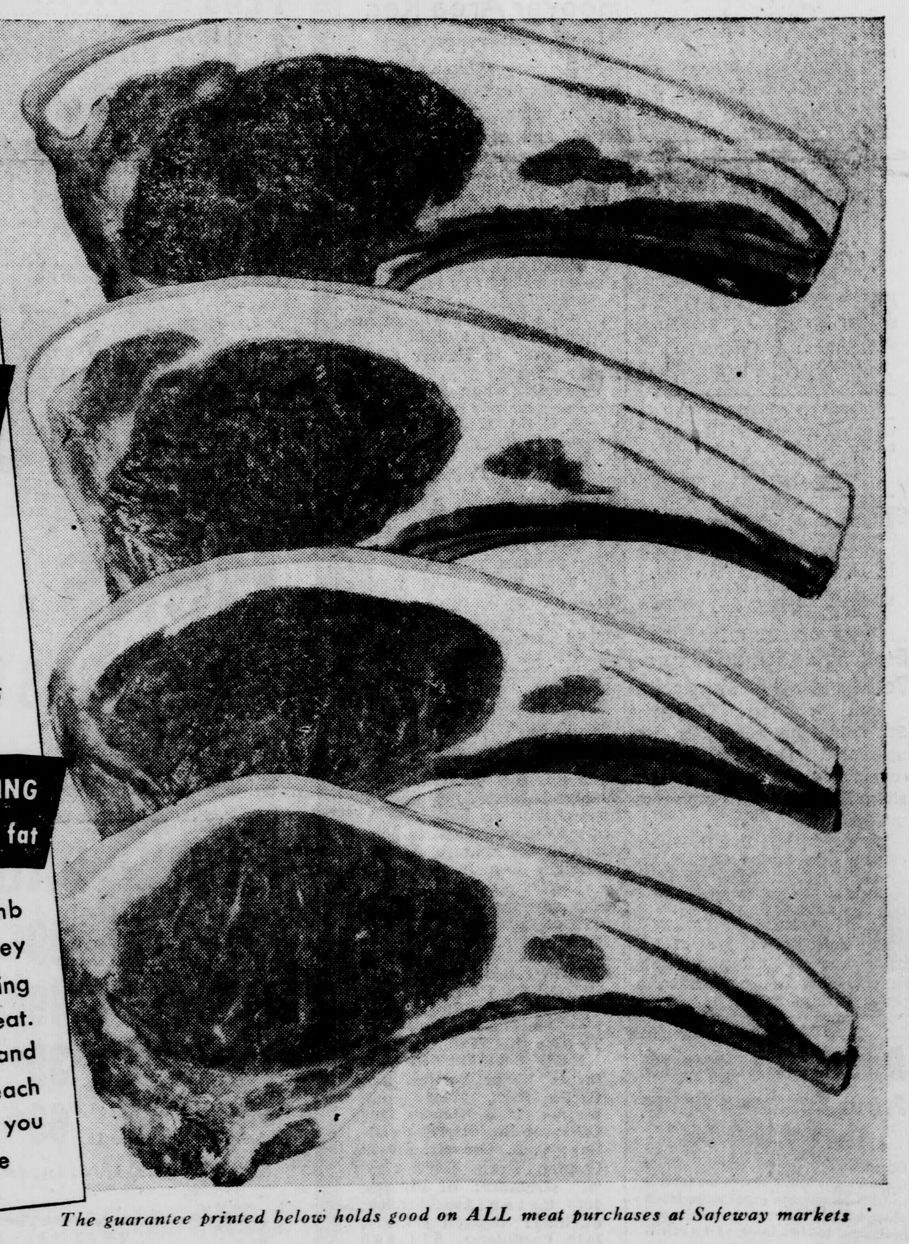
Safeway experts buy only Government graded lamb—the top U. S. Government grades. It's the finest-eating lamb offered in this area. Safeway also buys only top U. S. Government grades of beef, top grades of pork and veal

THEY'RE AGED FOR TENDERNESS
...the way finest hotels do

In the specially-designed aging rooms (at our remarkable 2-acre meat plant) we age Safeway meat for the full time required to develop its peak natural tenderness, juiciness and fine flavor. Just the way famous hotel chefs do

THEY'RE TRIMMED BEFORE WEIGHING
...you don't pay for excess bone or fat

These Safeway rib lamb chops show you why it's "money in your pocket" to check trimming as well as price when buying meat. Safeway cuts off long "tail" and tip end of chine bone from each chop before weighing. It gives you better-eating chops, less waste



The guarantee printed below holds good on ALL meat purchases at Safeway markets

TAKE HOME some Safeway rib lamb chops (or any cut or kind of Safeway meat)...Cook and serve the way you prefer

EAT EVERY BIT OF THE MEAT...judge the tenderness, juiciness, flavor

IF YOU DON'T LIKE THE MEAT—for any reason whatsoever—your own Safeway market man will give all your money back, without return of the meat.

Emil Steinegger Named To Planning Commission

Emil Steinegger, 302 Myrtle St., a building contractor, was appointed by Redwood City councilmen this week to a position on the city planning commission.

He will replace Don S. Wilson, of the San Mateo County Engineer's office, who resigned when he decided to move out of the city.

Two-thirds of the area of Australia has an inadequate water supply, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Amos Knack Claims Bride At Home Rites

Hazel Smith and Amos Knack were married recently at a home ceremony which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goodridge, 985 Montgomery St., San Carlos. The Rev. Dallas French officiated.

The wedding took place before a mantle decked with white stock and lemon vine. The bride wore a green suit and a white carnation corsage.

The bridegroom is a native of San Carlos and the bride formerly resided in Batavia, N. Y. Mrs. Lisle DeMarr of San Bruno was matron of honor and Mr. DeMarr was best man.

An informal reception was held at the Goodridge home following the ceremony. After a short honeymoon in Southern California, Mr. and Mrs. Knack will make their home in San Carlos.

Hoover Area Rec Plans Approved

Preliminary plumbing work on the Hoover School area recreation building has been completed and approved by the Redwood City building inspector's office, C. W. Rose, chairman of the recreation building committee reported today.

The building is to be erected on property adjoining the Hoover School and is being built on a volunteer basis by residents in the area. The project was started by the Redwood Village Improvement Club and has been turned over to Hoover School Dist. residents.

Volunteers who worked on the plumbing include Rose, Stan Licavoli, John L. Miller, H. V. Dawson, L. C. Chapman and H. W. Gatto.

Belmont Water Hearing Called

No protests were made last this week at a public hearing called by the board of directors of the Belmont Water Dist. on a $30,000 assessment district project to bring water lines to property near the old Pullman estate in Belmont.

Water district officials said that no water is available in the area at present and that eventually when the property is built up, the water lines will supply between 100 and 150 homes. Bids on bonds for the project will be called for by the board in the near future.

The board this week also discussed the project for a large pump station near the west city limits of Belmont, but took no official action.

Anna Louise Strong Arrives in New York, Called for U.S. Grand Jury Investigation

NEW YORK (AP)—Anna Louise Strong, deported from Russia on espionage charges, arrived by plane early today and promptly was subpenaed to appear before a federal grand jury probing Communism. Two FBI agents met her at La Guardia Field, and handed her the federal subpena. No date for her appearance was specified.

The Nebraska-born journalist, whose writings have been described as pro-Soviet, told newsmen she was not guilty of Russia's charges.

She said the charges were the result of "war hysteria" which she blamed mostly on the American press.

Miss Strong, who had given her address as Palo Alto, Calif., said her plans are indefinite because of "all these summonses."

GARDEN: What Plants Thrive in Rich, Sandy Loam?

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

Like games? I'm going to quote Bailey's Encyclopedia for a few lines, and you see if you can tell what the plant is. Here goes:

"The plants thrive best in a fresh, rather rich, sandy loam, well drained; but most of the species will do well in any good garden soil."

Got it? I think you're wonderful, but you are amazing in addition if you have an answer from that, because there are thousands of plants that would thrive in that kind of soil. Few worth growing that wouldn't.

Which brings up a point. We garden writers use up an awful lot of time writing that "Fresh, rather rich, sandy loam, well drained" routine. I think it's high time we took it for granted, unless specified otherwise, like the court says you're not too guilty until the jury pins it on you, and we take it for granted we're all against sin—at least most kinds.

So we take another couple of lines or so and see if you can specify the species. (Don't skip ahead and peek now. This is honor bright, like playing double solitaire. Who doesn't cheat at singles?)

"The tuberous-rooted species are suitable for hardy borders, while most of the others prefer a place in a rockery, and some are partial to shady places.

"They require essentially the same handling as tulips and hyacinths, and are usually classed with bulbous plants. Tubers placed in pots in September or October bring forth a beautiful show of bloom by January or March. For this purpose they should be well drained, (the old boy's repeating himself), and not kept very wet or too warm before growth is well started; they prefer more moisture at flowering time."

The first thing that would have come into your mind would be tuberous begonias, but you'd immediately discard that idea when Bailey says they are okay for a hardy border or a rockery. Not tuberous begonias, then. Got it?

I guess there are plenty of others who haven't yet, so bear with us. This next clue also shows that it's a timely plant, one you can still make room for this Spring. Here goes:

"Nearly all the species can be readily propagated by both root-division and seed. The seeds are sown very shallow in a clean bed, in either warm fall or early spring. The division of roots is best made in early spring before growth starts.

"The season for both outdoor and indoor planting will directly influence the flowering season. Good months for outdoor planting are September, October, November, December, February and March."

Several of the most famous varieties of this flower are Whirlwind, Queen Charlotte (pink), Brilliant Diadem and Prinz Heinrich. The last two are carmine and magenta.

It's too bad that I haven't a jackpot of washing machines, refrigerators, mink coats, trips to Hawaii, bonded diamond rings and a year's supply of my sponsor's product to give the first one who guessed what the "mystery" plant for today was. As for my sponsor's product, any newsboy will be glad to supply you for just five cents, or you can subscribe by the month, on credit, yet.

• Also I'm sorry I couldn't bring you a recording of the mystery flower with one of those intriguing recitals. Lordy, how wonderful it is to sit through that sort of thing, with telephone calls and all!

For those still not quite sure, here's a last line from Bailey, which clears it all up: (And you don't really have to buy this paper to read this column. Pinch your neighbor's.) The line:

"As a rule, the tuberous anemones will blossom at any time desired, being influenced by the time they are kept out of the ground. The bulbs may be ripened after flowering time by being taken from the ground to dry."

So buy some anemone seeds if you like them, and sow as soon as the ground is easily worked. Or if you prefer, borrow some from your neighbor. A neighbor can be very useful, if you borrow enough. Anemones, that is.

State Ruling On School Bonds

SACRAMENTO (WNS) — The county treasurer of San Mateo County is justified in seeking court determination as to the date when incompetency commenced where bonds of a high school district were presented for payment more than 10 years after their maturity date, Attorney General Howser ruled today.

The opinion was asked by the district attorney of San Mateo County after the representative of an estate of incompetency presented three bonds, two maturing April 1, 1948, and the third July 1, 1948, the presentation being Nov. 6, 1948. The judgment of incompetency was made Sept. 27, 1948.

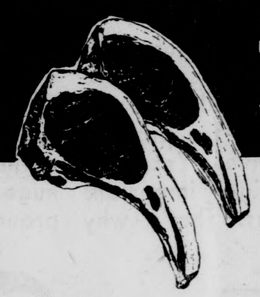
test SAFEWAY RIB LAMB CHOPS for EATING VALUE!
You'll find them wonderful eating . . . or the chops are yours FREE!


The guarantee below holds good on ALL meat purchases at Safeway markets.
THEY'RE TRIMMED BEFORE WEIGHING . . . you don't pay for excess bone or fat—at Safeway the long "tail" of the rib and the end of the chine bone are removed before weighing.
THEY'RE FROM GOVERNMENT GRADED LAMB . . . only top U. S. Government grades are selected for you by Safeway experts.
THEY'RE AGED FOR TENDERNESS . . . in specially-designed, temperature-controlled, aging rooms to bring out peak flavor and tenderness.
TAKE HOME some Safeway Rib Lamb Chops—cook and serve them the way you prefer . . . EAT EVERY BIT OF THEM . . . Judge them for tenderness, juiciness and flavor . . . IF YOU DON'T LIKE THEM—for any reason—your own Safeway market man will give all your money back, without return of the meat.

Check . . . and double check
Ever get home from a shopping trip and wonder what you paid for one or more of your purchases? This should never happen when you shop at Safeway. We try to make sure you know exactly what you pay for every item.
We give you information about our prices in several ways. First, in our advertising; next, on the shelves; on cans and packages, where practical; then, by calling prices at the check stand. Our checkers are instructed to call out the price on each item as it is rung up on the cash register. As a final check, the itemized cash register receipt is placed with your purchases to go home as a written record of what you paid.
Price information is always important. To you. To us. To everyone. Safeway service is planned to make sure you know each price and know that your purchases are accurately checked and totaled.

All items subject to stock on hand—right to limit reserved.
